

3. All teachers have informed or will inform their students as these assessments are finalized. Please speak to your student about their exams, and also please contact their teacher with any questions you have. The teachers are your first and best resource for you and your student, as they have more contact with students than anyone else at MUIDS. Therefore, your first contact should always be the teacher.

4. It is important to remember that school across the world are dealing with the challenge of online learning, including concerns about lost content and curriculum. MUIDS compares very well to school around the world in terms of teacher contact time, with many schools unable to offer any at all, even over video; student attendance; and content coverage.

Please kindly be informed accordingly.
